PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I am a highly motivated, hard working individual who had to take some time off of work to take care of my parents. In order to be successful while pivoting in my career, I enrolled in a Full Stack Web Development, and I am looking forward to starting my new career. As a basketball coach and AAU director, I have learned to cooperate with people of many walks of life, many of whom had individual interests outside of the team. However, I was able to get most on the same page striving towards our team and program goals.

The mission of the program I build was:

The purpose of Wisconsin Havoc is player development and exposure. We provide a competitive atmosphere where our players learn the rewards of working towards a goal, how to cooperative in a team environment, and the discipline of practice, all in the context of enjoying the game of basketball. We want our players to wreak Havoc by attacking any obstacles they face on the court and more importantly in their daily lives. Our players will strive to get the most out of everything they have, be thankful for what they have, accomplish their goals with integrity, and treat people the right way. By achieving this, they will be prepared to compete with the top talent across the country and stand out in front of college coaches.

I wish to bring the same qualities to any web development opportunities that I might have.
